Dear Mr. Wood:

Enclosed is one set of pure Nickel Ecuador coins as promised.

Regarding the Nickel display, of which we have spoken, I am still mindful of my promise to supply you with the necessary specimens. Indications are that I will have this ready now in a couple of months.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr. Case:

Although we billed you for two negatives of the Bactrian coins we do not let these negatives out. Also in this case another coin was photographed on the same negative and we charged you not the full price but the proportinate price. So that the Manger of Purchases may have a correctly worded bill I am herewith sending you a corrected bill. The extra print you telephoned for will come later - in other words, just as soon as we print again.

Dear Mr. Case:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of the five centime pure nickel of 1914 and have erased this from my memorandum. You now have of ours just the two Iraq nickel coins.

Very truly yours,

Dear Mr Wood:

Just rec'd eight each of the 47 ets and 10 7 ets of Kingdom of Iraq. Here is the set which you let me have recently. This takes care of all the specimens borrowed, I believe. If not let me know.

Sincerely

Dear Mr. Case:

When you have time will you look up and give me a description or rubbing of the one lek nickel piece struck in London in 1931? We do not have this piece and I do not know whether they changed the design or not. They did on the half lek made in 1931. A copy of this you once presented to us.

Trusting to see you again soon, I remain,

Very truly yours,

Curator
